

BRITISH PRESS MORE HOSTILE TO FRENCH POLICY

Editorials Give Warning to France That She Is Breaking the Entente—References to Breach.

"SMELL OF POWDER" IN POINCARÉ'S SPEECH

All France Said to Be Thinking in Terms of War, With Public Opinion Divided Three Ways.

LONDON, April 25.—The Manchester Guardian says editorially today:

An open breach between France and England would be the most serious happening since the war. It would only happen if Mr. Poincaré were forced, if France makes it perfectly clear that she intends it, and that there is literally no alternative even for her successful strategy.

M. Poincaré is entitled to put on his actions as long as possible and we shall not believe that he is prepared to break off the conference with the inevitable result of moral isolation for France, until he has translated his words into action.

France ended the war with all the world her friend and would-be ally. No one has attacked her since she sought to isolate her. This country in particular has stood by her with a loyalty which has withstood the severest strains.

At Washington she extracted herself from much sympathy. It is she prepared to court the consequences of a similar error at Geneva.

Press More Hostile.

Should France invade the Ruhr in the event of Germany's failure to make prompt reparations, negotiations for the proposed Anglo-French pact probably will be broken off.

In addition, it is expected there will be a big demand for the French government to call upon Paris to pay the interest on the huge sums owed this country.

Meanwhile, press comment grows more hostile to the French position and plainly warns France that her attitude is breaking the Entente.

The Pall Mall Gazette attributes the entire situation to the treaty of Angora between France and the Turkish Nationalists. The paper declares Germany's action in concluding a treaty with the Bolsheviks was no worse.

The probable early breakdown of the Geneva conference is more than hinted at in some of the London newspaper editorials today. The Northcliffe journals, which have consistently opposed the conference, and Premier Lloyd George's advocates thereof, declare the meeting a failure. The Times says: "It is difficult becoming clearer that the splendid visions which the world was asked to expect as a result of the conference are fading away, and it is childish of the Premier to try to cover his mistakes by setting the blame for his failure upon the press, whose only fault is that it has been too clear-sighted."

"Smell of Powder" in Poincaré's Address Sensed in Paris.

PARIS, April 25.—All France is thinking in terms of war after following Premier Poincaré's belated speech at Bar-le-Duc. Public opinion, however, divides itself into three main currents which are:

First, the Royalists and extreme Nationalists, whose theme is that the French Government must forsake Geneva and advance forthwith into Germany so that general European war may be averted.

Second, the moderates, who stand solidly behind M. Poincaré in his resolve to take military action should Germany fail to make good on reparations by May 11, and insist upon retaining their entente with Russia.

Third, the small Liberal element, labor organizations, Socialists, and Communists, in whose eyes the Premier's speech is an "Odeuvre" puts a warning: "that we are ready to commence the Napoleonic war in order to prove to the world we are not imperialists."

La Lanterne says the Bar-le-Duc pronouncement is "a smell of powder, even if it is not contemplated to make war immediately."

The Journal du Peuple demands to know whether, if French opposition to the Russians should lead Germany to obtain the Polish portion of Upper Silesia, M. Poincaré would demand general mobilization to force the Reich to restore that territory to Poland.

L'Humanité, the leading Communist organ, warns the Premier the proletariat will not stand for any further maneuvering. It points out that the May day consecrated to labor demonstrations is at hand.

Meanwhile Royalists are organizing "patriotic" meetings with a view to obligating the Government to invade Germany "in order to avert war."

ELEMENTARY FACTS ABOUT RUSSIA'S FINANCIAL STATE AS PRESENTED BY KEYNES

Summary of Conditions Given Based on Soviet Experts' Replies to His Questions.

By JOHN MAYNARD KEYNES, M. A., C. B. (Fellow and Tutor of King's College, Cambridge; Editor Economic Journal (London); Author "Economic Consequences of the Peace" and a Revision of the Treaty.)

GENOA, April 25.—We are the week's extraordinarily important of the details of the great Russian experiment. Our plans for renewal of economic intercourse are vast and often available because we do not know what we are dealing with. Unfortunately, the Soviet experts in returning to us what is a useful and taking the whole picture, a great deal of information will be required on both sides before a practical scheme can be worked out.

I have tried to give questions to the Soviet experts to obtain from them some elementary facts about the present state of the Russian economy. The answers given me, which I summarize below, are very interesting indeed.

The system of non-monetary economy has been abolished in the course of the last six months, although the transition is not quite complete and some industries, coal, for instance, are still organized on the old lines of the state providing employees with what is called the "gold rouble," but which is really a composite index representing the purchasing power of the gold rouble in 1917.

When calculating every week the index of the gold rouble, the paper roubles are required to buy what a gold rouble would buy in 1917.

Terms of Depreciation.

The terms of depreciation of the paper currency during the last five months is shown by the following table of numbers of paper roubles required to buy what one gold rouble would buy in 1917.

At Washington she extracted herself from much sympathy. It is she prepared to court the consequences of a similar error at Geneva.

Meanwhile, press comment grows more hostile to the French position and plainly warns France that her attitude is breaking the Entente.

FLOOD RECEDING AT FORT WORTH; 20 MAY BE DEAD

First Body Recovered—Reports That Levee Had Been Dynamited Are Declared
Unfounded.

$40,000 ASKED TO RELIEVE SUFFERING

Mayor Appeals for Aid—Water for All Purposes to Be Brought Into City Tonight.

By the Associated Press.
FORT WORTH, Tex., April 25.—The Trinity River has fallen to 22.4 feet at 5 a. m., the lowest point in 24 hours. This is three feet above the flood stage. Municipal officials will be able to get water for all purposes into the city by night, relieving much suffering from the drought. The city is now in a desperate condition of need for water. The first body to be recovered was that of a man, about 35 years old, was found hanging on a tree near the levee, south of the Van Landt road. He is believed to have been a house worker. Mayor Cook and city officials of the Red Cross have appealed for help from the city and the flood victims. The flood victims were declared unfounded at the District Attorney's office today.

The highest damage is on the levee side, where 25 houses and 100 acres of land are under water and all communications with that section of the city are cut off. On the north the water extends from the mouth of the river to the North Fort Worth road. The water is about 10 feet deep. The water on the eastern boundary of the city extends to the Van Landt road, about 10 miles from downtown. In the Van Landt road, about one mile from the city, a house was destroyed. Several workers engaged to work on the levee were killed. A body was found near the Van Landt road this morning.

The bridge at the Fort Worth and Denver and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroads have been swept away. Relief work was hindered last night by darkness. Although the water level of the river is dropping, power was obtained from a dam here this morning. Telephone service is stopped and street car service has been suspended in parts of the city.

The flood was confined chiefly to the levee side of the city.

Early today a torrential rain fell and water in several places was rising. Business was virtually suspended yesterday.

Train Service Suspended.
A Rock Island passenger train, the only train to arrive during the night, reached here at 1 a. m. today, having left Dallas at 7 p. m. and made its last stop at Fort Worth.

About 250 members of the American Legion, co-operating with the police, are patrolling the streets. Men, women and children were found from the levee and the water was so deep that many were unable to get out. An aged couple was taken from the uppermost branches. One family was saved when police saved a child in danger of a drowning.

As the flood waters spread, people living in the levee side were forced to leave their homes, seeking refuge in trees and high points. Drowned and about many lying in their places of safety. Hours were waiting the arrival of rescuers.

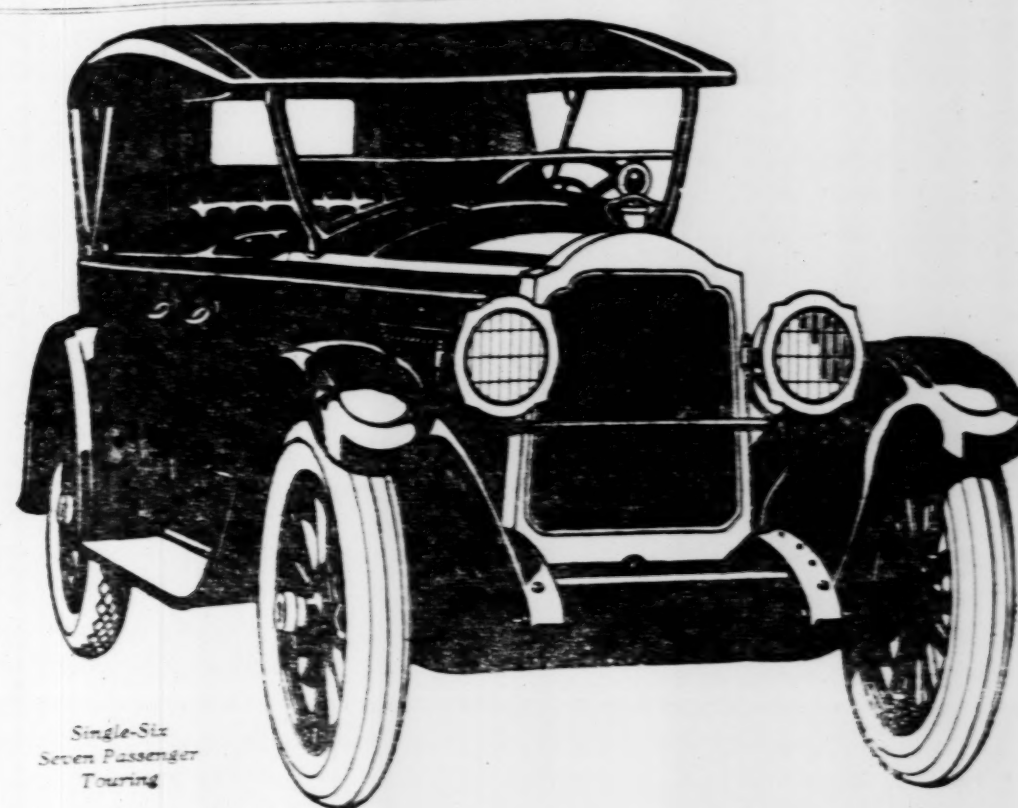

A man took refuge in a tree early in the day. He tried for help several times, but officers and rescue workers were unable to find him. Shots were fired in the darkness but the man was not seen until dawn. When he asked who was doing this, the rescue workers told him that they were shooting in an effort to locate him. He told them that a limb of the tree, in which he took refuge, was shot off and he narrowly escaped being struck by the branch of the tree.

Lots of money persons ran as high as $4, but many of these may be found when the waters recede.

Woman Washed Off Bridge by Sudden Rise of River.

By the Associated Press.
SHELTON, Tex., April 26.—Mrs. T. P. Meyer of Shelton, was drowned in the Salado River, near here, when she and her husband were washed off a bridge during the sudden rise of the river. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were returning from San Antonio by automobile and had stopped at the bridge to inspect its condition before crossing. Meyer was swept off the bridge and a few moments later his wife was washed into the river. They became separated and Meyer made his way to shore.

Single-Six
Seven Passenger
Touring

IN the fabrication of really fine motor cars there has probably been no experience so exhaustive as Packard experience.

So, too, there is probably no equipment in existence, dedicated over a long period to that high purpose, as exact and as effective in its application, as the Packard equipment.

It was inevitable that out of these two basic advantages should come a leadership, among cars of Packard calibre, so outstanding as to be unmistakable.

Carried beyond the best and most beautiful in Packard tradition, these new Packard Single-Six cars also set themselves apart and alone, as the most vivid examples of value in their class.

The price of the new Single-Six five passenger touring is $2485 at Detroit.
The new price of the Twin-Six touring is $3850 at Detroit.

Rothschild's Annual Breaks the Record for the Greatest Volume of Business Done by Any Store in the World in the Same Length of Time—The Story

Did you ever watch the crowd lining up before a movie house when one of the popular stars of the hour, Mary Pickford, Bill Hart or others were about to appear on the silver screen? Or have you stood as the public parted with good money for the big three-ring circus or to see a batch of light-skinned females disport their bodies in the favor of musical comedy stunts?

Can a St. Louis Institution Sell $100,000 Worth of Furniture In One Week?

BUCK M'KAY'S PAROLE REVOKED BY GOVERNOR

Former St. Louis Saloonkeeper Said to Have Threatened to Use Ax on Relatives.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 24.—Gov. Hyde yesterday revoked the parole of Buck McKay, former St. Louis saloonkeeper, who in 1903 was sentenced to serve 25 years for the killing of a negro, and who was paroled last January to relatives at Wakefield, Kan.

McKay is subject to epilepsy, and for the seven years preceding his parole had been kept in solitary confinement through fear that he would injure guards or other prisoners during periods of violence which seize him as he regains consciousness following the occasional convulsions characteristic of his ailment.

Released on Plea of Mother.
During the last six months McKay had less trouble than formerly, having gone as long as 50 days without having convulsions. Finally the State Board of Pardons and Paroles and Gov. Hyde listened to the entreaties of McKay's mother, Mrs. Belle Elasser, and other relatives who live near Wakefield, in Clay County, Kan., that Buck be turned over to them. They promised to take care of him and to see that no one was harmed by him.

A few days ago, however, word came from the Sheriff and Prosecuting Attorney of Clay County, demanding that the Missouri authorities remove Buck from their midst, as he had developed a threatening attitude toward the members of the Elasser family, as a result of which he had been placed in jail at Clay Center for safekeeping. He had threatened, among other things, the Sheriff wrote, to split the heads of his relatives with an ax.

Twice before during his sentence McKay was sent outside the prison, once in 1908 to the State Hospital for the Insane at Fulton, and in 1909 to the hospital for insane Nevada. Buck escaped from Fulton and was recaptured in Oklahoma while trying to shoot a Sheriff, according to prison authorities, and was brought back from Nevada after it had become necessary to build a cell of street car rails to hold him.

Rational Between Spells.
Between these periods of violence McKay is rational and always is sorry for what may have happened.

McKay is the prisoner referred to by Thomas Mott Osborne, formerly Warden at Sing Sing and the naval prison at Portsmouth, N. H., in several addresses in St. Louis during the last year, as having been in solitary confinement for a long period. Prison authorities are undetermined what to do with Buck when he is returned. At the expiration of his sentence he will be turned over to the city of St. Louis.

CHICAGO BUILDING ON INCREASE

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 26.—More permits were taken out last month by Chicago builders than in any previous month in the last nine years, according to the April employment bulletin of the Illinois Department of Labor. The upward trend in building activities dates back to last July when noticeable drops in costs manifested themselves, the bulletin said. Building permits in Chicago last month totaled 1227, with the estimated cost of construction planned, more than $19,000,000.

The largest building year in the last two decades came in 1916, when projected work amounted to $112,888,160; but with the declaration of war in 1917 building operations fell off, not to be resumed actively until 1918. The bottom was reached in January, 1918, when only 58 permits were used.

GOVERNMENT INLAND WATERWAYS PLANS

Col. T. Q. Ashburn Unfolds Scheme to Put Barges on All Inland Streams

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 23.—

With the lower Mississippi barge line a success, the Government will be in position to pioneer in moving the commercial possibilities of navigation on other rivers. Col. T. Q. Ashburn, assistant chief of the inland and coastwise waterway service of the War Department, told the delegates to the Mississippi Valley Association convention yesterday.

The other unfolded a scheme under which the Government funds in the Mississippi line would be used again and again until barge service is in all the inland waterways of the nation.

Plans for Development.

Col. Ashburn said that when the Mississippi operation had been carried to assured success it should be disposed of as a private operating company. With the money received he proposed that the War Department turn to another stream of water, there to pioneer again until the situation was developed for a commercial enterprise. This in time the War funds placed in the Mississippi project would have built up barge lines on all rivers. It was, he said, the Government's function to pioneer, but nobody wanted the Government to operate the line permanently.

Col. Ashburn said the situation between Edward F. Galt, Democratic National Committeeman from Missouri, and the Government which gives Galt the right to operate a barge line on the Mississippi River. What the situation was intended to do, he said, was to establish a transportation system on the upper Mississippi River for coal and iron ore, what it actually did was give Galt the right to operate large lines the entire length of the Mississippi River and on all its tributaries. The contract, he said, was unquestionably valid.

He said he had opposed granting permission to Galt to operate a large line on the lower Mississippi River in competition with the Government line, but had favored permitting Galt's barge to carry commodities for which the Government line had no facilities.

Approved as Routine Matter.

Then Col. Ashburn said, "Mr. Galt produced a permit approved by Secretary Baker, March 4, 1932, which gave him the right to handle traffic on the lower Mississippi at 10 percent of the rail rate, the same rate charged by the Government line. The officer who was in charge of engineers at that time told me he had recommended approval of this under the Mississippi River act, and that it applied to the lower Mississippi, not the upper and it was approved in Mr. Baker's office as a matter of routine."

Col. Ashburn said the permission from the Secretary of War was reasonable, but that Galt would assert his right to operate on the lower Mississippi. After his discussion before the association, the army officer indicated he would suggest that Galt be permitted to operate on an 80-per cent charge on all bargeage contracted for, but that on the lower Mississippi he be held to the rail rate on new business.

The army officer said the delegates very plainly what was wanted of Galt in the interest of the success of inland navigation. That Galt either turn the barge line back to the Government or the War Department would place it on the Upper Mississippi, himself place it on the Upper Mississippi, according to the original understanding by his contract, or operate on the Lower Mississippi, as he had no competition with the present line, i.e., limit his carriage to such as oil and coal and not interfere with the Government's exploitation of the possibilities of barge line operation.

Barge Line Earnings.

Col. Ashburn reported the barge line on the lower Mississippi is earning slightly more than 4 per cent on replacement value of $4,000,000, making large allowance for depreciation.

"If the railroads of the United States will co-operate with us in the use of inland waterway transportation as they have in the past or hamper it, as they are doing at present, we will increase their business by bringing in additional business," said Col. Ashburn.

Wonders of Wireless Impress Two Speakers

Notable Addresses From K S D Station by Thomas R. Marshall, Emerson Hough and J. A. Lewis.

Thomas R. Marshall of Indianapolis, Vice President of the United States from 1912 to 1921, addressed K S D audiences from the Post-Dispatch radio studio yesterday afternoon. The distinguished speaker's voice is admirably adapted for the radiophone and many reports were received telling how clearly his words had been transmitted.

Speaking in an almost reverent spirit, Marshall gave a vivid outline of some of the remarkable achievements of science in his lifetime. He recalled, as a boy, taking a steamboat ride on a new river craft which, it had been triumphantly announced, could make six miles an hour. He remembered the laying of the rails of a new transportation line, which, its promoters said, would carry passengers 12 miles an hour and haul 100 tons of freight.

The Talking Machine. Later, in Washington, Marshall remembered the time when Edison brought his invention, the talking

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACK-HEADS—DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching out black heads make the pores large and cause irritation—then, too, after they have become hard you cannot get rid of them out. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin, and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them—a simple way, too—that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of calomel powder, sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge, rub over the face, wash with water, a few seconds—wash off and scrub with soap and water. The skin will be clean and the pores will be closed. The condition—anyone troubled with these black heads should use this simple method.

The Outdoor League.
He then described the reason for the movement which culminated in the convention which he is attending and the formation of the Outdoor League. An urgent need has arisen, he declared, urgent enough to move many men from many states with the same thought simultaneously, that the America loved by all is passing with ominous rapidity in these swift days of change and that because it is the most beautiful outdoor country on the earth's surface it must not be ruined ruthlessly. The Outdoor League of America, he said, is entirely apart from politics and commercialism. It is backed by no special interests, but is backed by men and women who are interested in the extension and betterment of the American outdoors.

Banker Also Speaker.
Following Hough on the K S D program was J. A. Lewis, president of the Republic National Bank of St. Louis, who lately returned to this city after an absence of several years in New York. Lewis discussed St. Louis as a banking center, as viewed from the East. He declared that the whole attitude of business men towards St. Louis and the West generally had changed in the last few years. St. Louis now is classed with Chicago as a banking center.

This city has occupied a more advantageous position financially than almost any other community during the recent stringent times, he said. This is because St. Louis is situated in the heart of the greatest agricultural center in the world and has diversified manufacturing industries, whereas many of the other large cities have been dependent upon one or two industries only.

John Moody of New York, one of the two greatest living statisticians, will be one of the speakers on tonight's program. He will discuss the business outlook. H. C. Irish, director of horticulture of the St. Louis Board of Education, also will speak, and for its musical artists the evening program will have Miss Louise Dostal, soprano, and Joseph Huber, cornetist. Huber is blind, and is one of the leading cornet soloists of the city.

Ward off one of humanity's greatest enemies by daily use of Kellogg's Bran!

Medical authorities generally agree that sickness and old age start in the intestinal tract through CONSTIPATION—a condition that every man, woman and child in this nation can positively and permanently relieve through the regular use of KELLOGG'S Bran, cooked and krumbled! Kellogg's Bran is nature's own food, made to function properly. Bran must have to function properly. Bran sweeps, cleans and purifies without irritation or discomfort. So wonderful is its work for health that you can take any person who is run down, whose system is clogged and poisoned by constipation, give them Kellogg's Bran three times a day and eliminate the trouble permanently! Yet Kellogg's Bran is not a "remedy"—simply nature's food. To eat Bran regularly means that you will become normal in the eliminative tract, and in other organs, and escape the dangers that are traceable directly to constipation! Your physician will endorse Bran for constipation. Do not neglect Kellogg's Bran another day. Every member of your family should eat Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily; in chronic cases, eat it with each meal. It does great work for children, making them grow big and strong, and safeguards their health. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is deliciously flavored. Eat it as an appetizing cereal, or sprinkle it over your favorite cereal. Kellogg's Bran makes the tastiest gems, raisin bread, pancakes—and endless other good things—and it is working for health all the time! Buy Kellogg's Bran at all grocers!

MRS. CAMPANELLA, AWAY FROM HOME SINCE MONDAY, RETURNS

Lawyer Had Been Conducting Search for Witness in East St. Louis Police Inquiry.

Mrs. Jose Campanella, widow of John Campanella, whose death in a cell at the East St. Louis Police station, March 25, is being investigated by the East St. Louis Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, on an order from the City Council to inquire into police "third-degree" practices against prisoners returned to her home, 2701 Missouri avenue, at 11 a. m. today, after having been the object of a search by her lawyer, Joseph B. McGivern, because of her unexplained absence since Monday night.

She said she had been in Willsville, Ill., visiting her late husband's two brothers and consulting with a priest. Mrs. Campanella was at the hearing Monday night in the East St. Louis city hall when a crowd of spectators that attempted to attend the hearing was driven from the city hall by policemen with drawn revolvers. Earlier that day she had told a coroner that a strange man had called at her home and had told her to get out of East St. Louis if she wished to avoid trouble. After the hearing, she was seen to leave the city hall with a man who drove her and her four children away in an automobile.

The Ministerial Alliance of East St. Louis, composed of Protestant ministers, yesterday adopted a resolution calling for a thorough and impartial investigation of implied charges against the Police Department and higher city officials, growing out of the "third degree" investigation, and for the creation of an organization of 1000 citizens to make and keep East St. Louis clean.

BIRTH OF SON DRAWS YOUNG GARLAND BACK TO WIFE

Man Who Renounced, Then Accepted $1,000,000, Said to Spend Part of Time at Her Home.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. BOSTON, April 26.—The birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Garland has resulted in a reconciliation between the young millionaire and his wife, whom he left for a reputed affinity.

Young Garland was the subject of much comment when he renounced an inheritance of $1,000,000 because he had not earned it. Later he felt he owed it to his family to accept the fortune.

Then he met Miss Lillian Conrad, a Philadelphia art student. They declared they were meant for each other and could not let the conditions of a bourgeois society keep them apart. Garland made his home in a shack on the North Carver woods, while his wife lived at their home in Ingham.

Today it was learned that the young man has been living part of the time recently at his wife's home.

LONG AND REED ABOUT 50-50 IN PEMISCOT COUNTY

With Sentiment Evenly Divided, Reed Has Slight Advantage Because Supporters Are Organized.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
CARTHAGESVILLE, Mo., April 26.—In this section of Southwest Missouri there is a stronger following for United States Senator Reed than it has been generally believed that he had in any county with a division of sentiment among Democrats. Long, his opponent, is credited with advantage because of the organization of his supporters. Reed, with of course some individual exceptions, is the wet element of Pemiscot County is for Reed and the dry element for Long. In the old days when prohibition elections were frequent, the Democratic Party of Pemiscot County usually went wet. Most of the men generally given the credit for things done in Democratic politics in the county are supporting Reed. The Anti-Saloon League and the so-called law and order forces are for Long.

In a recent municipal campaign the issue was drawn in Carthagesville between the two factions, the organization element, winning the election of the City Attorney, which was the most warmly contested. Rural Forces Evenly Divided. Throughout many rural sections of the State the anti-Reed sentiment has seemed to comprise about 10 percent of the Democratic voters. Here, according to the best obtainable information, it is not to exceed 30 percent and the prohibitionists, that if the primary were to be held today, neither candidate would have a material advantage.

The most house is being made by the anti-Reed element, but to be acquainted with the methods pursued by the organization crowd in Pemiscot County the noise of the opposition to Reed does not carry as great weight as it might in some other places. Throughout many differences between the Democratic leaders who are supporting Reed are the same as those who supported the late Senator Stone in his campaign of 1928, when former Gov. Folk opposed Stone for the nomination for Senator. Folk had much the same support that Long has today, and every outward indication prior to the primary which at that time was in November, the day of the general election, was that Folk would carry the county by a substantial majority. Indeed, Stone carried it by a large majority.

Stone's support was due, principally to the work done by the organization Democrats, including such men as C. B. Faris, now United States District Judge in St. Louis; Ed Judgen, editor of the Carthagesville Democrat; Arthur L. Oliver, who afterward was United States Attorney in St. Louis and who is now practicing law there; and James Wall, then representative here of a St. Louis brewer.

While it is true that neither Faris nor Oliver is here now, their influence remains, and both are for Reed. Oliver's brother, Stoupe Oliver, is City Attorney, and is active for Reed. Wall, though no longer a brewer, agent, is active and influential in Democratic politics and is supporting Reed.

Their method in the Stone-Folk campaign was to organize the through in the county for a full hunt right in the eye of the primary. At every township of the county they had from 10 to 20 men who conducted a full hunt for voters the last three or four days of the campaign and got them in the vote for the primary.

Few Politicians for Long. Opposed to the old organization element are several ministers and men active in Antislavery League work, but so far few practical politicians have been enlisted in the Long cause, or if they have, have not permitted it to become known. Sam Connel, formerly a member of the Legislature, could probably be named as the leader of the anti-Reed element.

Supporters of Reed, though conceding he will carry the county, do not contend that his majority will be large, though they say they believe that if he will come into Pemiscot County for three speeches in one day he can win by a substantial majority.

It is expected that both Long and Reed will speak in the county, and then the lines will be more closely drawn than now. There is little talk here of the Wilson letter denouncing Reed, the supporters of Reed and Long seeming to be divided more on the local issues than upon Reed's record. It is not impossible that there will be changes in the lineup when the Long organization revives through literature the charges against Reed of unfaithfulness to the Democratic party in his opposition to the President, if such a campaign is decided upon by the Long men. Although divided by factions locally the Democrats of this county are largely of the type to stick strictly for party organization, and Long has the possibility of drawing from Reed some of those who are now supporting him. There is very little probability of any Republicans here voting in the Democratic primary to vote for Reed, as it is reported will be the case in some sections of the State. It is also said here that neither Reed nor Long would be attacked by Democrats to any extent in the general election.

WOMAN WHO REFUSED TO WED ST. LOUIS MINISTER DIVORCED

Mrs. Margaret Strong Person Was Married 4 Months After Breaking Engagement to the Rev. Guy E. Shipley.

CHICAGO, April 23.—Mrs. Margaret Strong Person obtained a divorce in Superior Court here yesterday from Frederick Van Ness Person upon testimony that Person was surprised, when improperly clad, in the company of two women in a house on Vincennes avenue. The divorce was granted by Judge J. J. Connelley.

Mrs. Person obtained $300 a month alimony. She told the Court her husband had earned $250 a month for the last two years. She was married Jan. 30, 1932, four months after she broke her engagement to marry the Rev. Guy Emery Shipley, formerly of St. Louis. Mrs. Person lives with her father, Joseph H. Strong, 4554 Grand boulevard, who is head of the insurance firm of Joseph H. Strong & Co. She told the Court that she and her husband separated Jan. 30, 1932, and declared that Person twice had admitted unfaithfulness.

representative; for one and two-thirds ratios, two representatives; for two and two-thirds ratios, three representatives; for four ratios, four representatives; and so on above that ratio, giving one additional member for each additional ratio. Counties containing less than three-fifths ratio which were contiguous to each other were to be joined into districts containing the three-fifths ratio and give one member, but a county having less than three-fifths ratio which was not contiguous to another similar county was to be given one member. While this provision did not go into effect, it was of some influence in determining the basis of representation adopted later.

The rejection of the draft Constitution in August, 1845, was followed by numerous proposals for amendment, included in which was one changing the basis of representation. As it required the joint action of two legislatures to adopt an amendment, the change was not made until 1849. While the plan of establishing a ratio introduced in the Constitution of 1845 was adopted, the divisor used in determining the ratio was 140 instead of 100. The smaller counties achieved a victory in the provision that a county with less than the ratio was nevertheless entitled to one representative. Finally, there was now evidenced the desire to discriminate against the more populous counties by increasing progressively the number of ratios required for each additional representative above two. Thus, for example, while a county with one and three-fourths ratios was entitled to two Representatives, it was necessary to have three ratios for three Representatives; four and one-half for four Representatives; 13 for eight Representatives and 24 for 12 Representatives. The plan adopted, it is true, gave the more populous counties more representation than the previously existing system which, under the constitutional provision restricting the number of Representatives to 100, practically gave each county only one Representative. It was, however, much less in accord with the principle of popular representation than the provision of the Constitution of 1845, and it fore-shadowed further discrimination in the future against the large centers of population. The same amendment which fixed the basis of representation restricted the Legislature's power to reduce the size of existing counties or to create new counties with less than 500 square miles or to give separate representation to any new county unless the latter contained, when established, free white inhabitants equal to three-fourths of the ratio of representation. This restriction was evaded, however, by amendments adopted in 1857 and 1861. The immediate effect of the new basis of representation is shown in the fact that St. Louis County received 10 Representatives, two counties three each, 18 counties two each, and the remaining 74 counties one each, making a total of 118 members.

In the Constitution of 1865, the basis of representation was determined according to the general plan adopted in 1849. The total population, however, was used instead of the free white inhabitants and the divisor was 200 instead of 140. While this resulted in a relatively smaller ratio, it was offset by an increase in the number of ratios required for additional Representatives. Each county with one ratio or less was to have one Representative, but it took two additional ratios to secure a second Representative, and for each additional Representative three ratios were required. This plan discriminated in favor of the smaller counties, but operated proportionally among the larger counties, differing in this regard from the provisions of 1845 and the plan adopted in the Constitution of 1878. St. Louis County, two Representatives while several of the medium group of counties lost one each. The single ticket plan of representation, introduced at this time, the County Board being required to divide the county into as many compact and convenient districts as the number of Representatives to which it is entitled, the districts to be as nearly as may be of equal population. The same principle also was now established for the Senate which was to consist of 34 members each chosen for a separate district. The districts were to be fixed by the Legislature, except in counties entitled to more than one Senator, where they were to be determined by the County Court as in the case of Representatives.

DEATH RATE LAST YEAR LOWEST ON RECORD IN ST. LOUIS

Health Commissioner's Report Shows It Was 12 Per 1000, Giving Rank of Fourth Among Large Cities

61 PER 1000 AMONG INFANTS UNDER YEAR

St. Louis Gets First Rank in This Respect; Cost of Health Protection Averaged 34 Cents Per Capita.

Both the general death rate and the death rate among infants under 1 year old in the city were reduced during 1921 to the lowest point in the 55 years of recorded history in the Health Department.

The annual report of Health Commissioner Starkloff, submitted today, shows that the general death rate was 12 per thousand, giving St. Louis fourth rank in this respect among the large cities of the country, and that the death rate among infants under 1 year old was 61 per 1000, giving the city first rank among other large cities, New York being second, with 71.

The report notes that the death rate among infants was reduced 15 per 1000 during 1921. In this connection Commissioner Starkloff states that the per capita expenditure of the city in protecting the health of its citizens during the year was 34 cents and declares that the amount is only about one-third of that needed to obtain maximum results.

Crowding and High Rents a Factor. Another factor affecting public health which the Commissioner declares should be alleviated is crowded housing and high rents.

"It is unfortunate that no change has taken place in the housing situation mentioned in my last report as a menace to the health of the community," he says. "Our escape during the year from a serious outbreak of disease is no assurance against this danger, which is ever-present where people are forced to live in crowded quarters under conditions far from what they should be from a sanitary standpoint."

"The few more available homes and apartments does not seem to have brought about any material reduction in rents and as a result many families are still forced to live under one roof in old residences which are not even altered to give them reasonable and necessary accommodations, such as toilet facilities and running water. The buildings, as a rule, are held by owners for speculative purposes and being only temporary makeshifts they constitute the very worst sort of a tenement situation. The owner is reluctant to spend money to make them habitable. They are rented merely for the purpose of getting some income to help pay for the carrying charges until the property is sold."

"Not Enough Food Inspectors." In discussing the department of food inspection, the report states that the number of food inspectors, four, is insufficient thoroughly to enforce food regulations. The Commissioner suggests that there be 12 food inspectors.

The number of cases from influenza during 1921 was 54, with five deaths, compared with 233 cases and 43 deaths in 1920. The number of deaths from tuberculosis declined from 324 in 1920 to 116 in 1921, and the number of pneumonia deaths from 1636 to 1196. The number of suicides increased from 125 to 160 and the number of other violent deaths from 530 to 559.

There were 557 children bitten by dogs during 1921 and though 29 of the dogs were found to be suffering from rabies, no deaths among the bitten children occurred.

The passage of the milk ordinance strengthening the department's control of milk is urged.

Give It to Them—

This trial tube—watch their teeth improve

If you prefer, let your children make this test. Let them brush their teeth a few days in this modern way. Then look and see what film removal means.

This is a way to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. Millions now employ it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Let someone in your home this week show the benefits it brings.

Why teeth look dingy

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. It dims and may ruin teeth.

Ordinary tooth pastes do not effectively combat it. So film-coats have been almost universal.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film, and, despite the tooth brush, they have constantly increased.

Must remove it daily

Dental science has long been seeking a daily film combatant. Now two effective methods have been found. Authorities have proved them by many careful tests.

A new-day tooth paste has been perfected, to comply with modern requirements. And these two film combatants are embodied in it. The name of the tooth paste is Pepsodent.

Millions of people of some forty races now employ it daily, largely by dental advice.

Two other new effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which authorities now deem essential. It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch

Real protection now

Now you can know what really clean teeth mean. Pepsodent fights film-coats, starch and acids—all the great tooth enemies. Then it leaves the mouth in normal alkaline condition. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show something of the benefits it brings.

New beauty in a week

The Pepsodent effects are quickly seen and felt. This test will be a revelation to you.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Note the refreshing taste it leaves.

It will bring you prettier teeth, and quickly. But, more than that, it will bring you safer teeth. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

MOSCOW, April 1.—Four of the

"A victim of indigestion for 5 long years"

Eat Fleischmann's Yeast plain, spread on bread or crackers or dissolved in milk, water or fruit juices

SHE had been treated by the best physicians in the city, yet for 5 long years she suffered from indigestion. The stomach and intestinal disturbance was very painful.

Then she tried eating Fleischmann's Yeast. After 3 weeks she began to gain. When she started eating the yeast she was decidedly underweight. Now her weight is back to normal. Her skin is clear and has the glow of health, and best of all her intestinal pains have left.

Fleischmann's Yeast is a fresh food rich in life-giving vitamin. It has a remarkable effect on the whole digestive system, increasing appetite and improving digestion. By eating Fleischmann's Yeast daily you get more nourishment from the other foods you eat.

Two to three cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast fresh every day before or between meals will keep your digestion in good shape. Place a standing order with your grocer. He will deliver Fleischmann's Yeast fresh daily.

BUILDING ON INCREASE

PHILADELPHIA.—Building plans perfected during the winter are being put into operation here. New structures include large hotels, club-houses, churches, schools, skyscrapers, stores, dwellings and a fair number of additions to industrial plants. One construction firm has contracts in or near the city aggregating $4,500,000 and is preparing for additional work. This firm did extensive advertising during the dull period and is reaping the benefits.

Preliminary work is being pushed on the enormous Delaware River bridge undertaking and the municipality is driving ahead on a pretentious building program. Construction activity is putting new life into various trades. Manufacturers of tools report business brisk, lumber, hardware and all kinds of building material are in demand and the supply of labor is being well employed. Shipbuilding of the Delaware is reviving and shipyards report a scarcity of carpenters and joiners, as most of the men in these trades are engaged in building construction.

This city and immediate vicinity are almost free from labor troubles for the moment. The Chamber of Commerce estimates, however, that the labor disputes in and around this city in the last two years have cost $25,000,000, about one-half the loss falling upon the workers.

GENERAL TOPICS

ST. PAUL, Minn.—Living costs in Minneapolis and St. Paul have dropped 3.2 per cent since Jan. 1. Both rents and food prices have shown appreciable declines. Railroad traffic slumped during the first 10 days of April because of reduced coal shipments, but is recovering now with major gains in logs, lumber, grain and merchandise shipments.

ATLANTA, Ga.—Bankers and shavers are noting an increased ability of the people of this district to get along without borrowing. This condition, they say, is clearly evidenced by the ratio of gold reserves to the combined deposit and note liabilities of the Federal Reserve Bank of this district which is reported at 77.9 per cent.

PHILADELPHIA.—Unemployment is decreasing locally and the latest figures for the State indicate a similar increase in most of the industrial lines except coal mining.

WOOL.
BOSTON.—The woolen mills have begun to buy the raw staple again and prices have shown an advance of about 5 per cent in some grades over the levels of three months ago.

FORT WORTH, Tex.—Shearing of long 22 months' wool began in Texas today and will be in full blast on the ranges by May 1.

RAISINS.
SAN FRANCISCO.—The raisin market is variable. There has been a falling off in Eastern demand with a considerable surplus now and indications of a large harvest.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr.
Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to keep young. To do this you must watch your liver and bowels. There is no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective.
They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c & 30c.

RESOLUTION ON WORLD ECONOMIC MEETING DISCUSSED

Committee of Mississippi Valley Association Favors Requesting President Harding to Call Conference.

PETITION TO CONGRESS PRESENTED BY REED

Senator Would Urge Immediate Completion of Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri River Development.

By the Associated Press.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 24.—A resolution calling upon President Harding to call a world economic conference in Washington is before the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley Association here today.
The association concludes a two-day convention today.

The subcommittee on resolutions, after prolonged discussion which continued until after midnight, decided to take any specific action with regard to the Great Lakes-St.
Lawrence waterway project, other than to reaffirm last year's declaration that the association was interested primarily in the development of the Mississippi River and its tributaries and after that in other waterway projects.

Text of Economic Resolution.

The resolution requesting an economic conference says:
"In view of the precarious conditions surrounding the present economic conference at Genoa and the profound interest which the United States has in attempting to complete the commercial, political, social and moral situation in the world today, and in order to stabilize general economic conditions and avoid further possibilities of world conflict, the Mississippi Valley Association respectfully requests the President of the United States and his advisers to consider without unnecessary delay the wisdom of endeavoring to assemble at Washington an actual world economic conference with reasonable assurance of the same impressive results that attended the recent conference for the limitation of armament."
A plea for the development of inland waterways as vitally important to the farmers and business men to the Mississippi Valley was made by James E. Smith, St. Louis vice president in charge of the waterways division of the Mississippi Valley Association, at today's session.

The greatest and most urgent need of the region, he declared, was cheap transportation and it must obtain this by development of inland waterways if it is to compete with European nations in world markets.

The memorial to Congress, prepared by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, urging immediate completion of Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri River development, met with favor in the subcommittee on resolutions, and it was stated by members of the committee that it would be presented to the convention substantially as drafted by the Senator.

Reed's Petition to Congress.
Senator Reed announced at a dinner last night that he would offer the following petition to Congress for the action of the convention.

"On June 15, 1913, the Congress approved the plan of the chief of engineers for the improvement of the Mississippi from the mouth of the Ohio to the mouth of the Missouri, in order to establish an eight-foot channel from Cairo to St. Louis, and a six-foot channel from St. Louis to the mouth of the Missouri, the work to be completed within 12 years at a cost of $21,000,000.
On June 25, 1913, the Congress undertook the improvement of the Mississippi River from the mouth of the Missouri to Minneapolis, with a view to establishing a permanent six-foot channel within a period of 12 years, and at a cost of $27,000,000.

"On June 25, 1916, Congress indented the improvement of the Ohio River from Pittsburgh to the mouth, with a view of establishing a permanent nine-foot channel within 12 years, at a cost of $62,000,000.
On June 25, 1917, Congress undertook the improvement of the Missouri River, between Kansas City and its mouth, with a view to establishing a permanent six-foot channel within a period of 12 years and at a cost of $20,000,000.

Should Have Been Completed.
The plan and purpose of the Congress, holding that in June of the present year, 1922, all of the foregoing projects should have been completed, to the end that all of said improvements would at the date mentioned be rendered fully payable, so that boat lines could be run on said rivers in co-operation and the immense tonnage awaiting shipment could be economically and efficiently carried over said streams.
"Instead of carrying out these several plans, as laid down, the Congress has for various reasons, which we do not undertake to criticize, limited the appropriations made from year to year, with the result that no one of the said projects has been fully completed.

The plan for the improvement of the Ohio River embraced the building of 24 dams; 15 of these have been completed, and seven are under construction.

Silks keep their fine sheen washed this way, say Belding Brothers

BELDING BROS & CO.
SILK MANUFACTURERS
906 BROADWAY
NEW YORK

Lever Bros. Co.,
Cambridge, Mass.

Gentlemen:

We had samples of our most popular washable silks.
crepes de Chine, satins and messalines tested with Lux.
Each sample was given the number of launderings it would receive as a garment.
The silks were in excellent condition at the end of the tests. The satins did not "nap up," nor did the crepes de Chine pull or look "wavy" as they often do after washing.
The colors remained clear throughout. A strong soap will often fade colors—it is ruinous to silk fibre as well, weakening it, and causing it to wear out more quickly.
The results obtained with Lux speak for themselves, but we should like to say that we feel our success with it is due only in part to its flake form. The chief element is its absolute mildness and purity which permits the sheerest and most delicately colored wash-silks to be laundered with it in entire safety.

Very truly yours,

E. J. Young

KENTUCKY JAILS FILLED IN FIGHT AGAINST LAWLESSNESS

Home of Jailers Shelters Women Prisoners; Many Persons Crowded Into Homes Without Guards.

MANCHESTER, Ky., April 26.—The county jail filled to capacity and the home of Jailor John Harris sheltering a large number of women prisoners, the Mill Creek section of Clay County is quiet today. In compliance with Circuit Judge J. Johnson's orders for the arrest of every person over 12 years of age in the Mill Creek territory, the jail today houses 125 men, and many more are under orders to appear before the grand jury to testify regarding the murder of a witness and the wounding of a Deputy Sheriff.

Deputy Sheriffs who visited the Mill Creek territory to make arrests made affidavits yesterday that there was an organized band to violate laws and if necessary kill anyone who attempted to break up the lawlessness.

Some of the men, women and older children for whom warrants were issued are crowded into homes of friends and relatives here without guards, while they wait sentences to appear before the grand jury.

Laclede Gas Hearing Date Set.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 26.—The Missouri Public Service Commission has set the next hearing on application of the Laclede Gas Light Co. for permission to decrease its gas thermal unit heat content of its gas from 600 to 570 for 10 a. m. May 12, here.

RESOLUTION ON WORLD ECONOMIC MEETING DISCUSSED

struction, 12 remaining to be constructed.

"Until the remaining works are constructed, no substantial part of the immense tonnage originating along the Ohio River can be carried into the Mississippi River."

The project for the improvement of the Mississippi River from St. Louis to Minneapolis, which was to have been completed at an estimated cost of $27,000,000, has had expended upon it $12,250,000, with the result that part of the Mississippi only is navigable during a few months of the year.

Cairo to St. Louis Project.

"The project for the improvement of the Mississippi River from Cairo to St. Louis, which was to be accomplished at an estimated cost of $21,000,000, has had expended upon it only $1,370,000, with the result that it can be navigated only under extreme difficulties."

"The project for the improvement of the Missouri River, at an estimated cost of $20,000,000, has had expended upon it $7,500,000. The channel of that river was therefore never fully completed. Laws and obstacles existed which should have been removed and yet notwithstanding these difficulties a boat line established by public subscription was established and operated for a number of years, until the Government took over the boats for war purposes."

"It is manifest that there can be no successful navigation until a reasonable channel has been provided and that work, partially completed, may, as in the case of the Ohio River, be of no substantial value to navigation."

"Notwithstanding these obstacles, and others, a boat line was established by the Federal Government upon the Mississippi River during the war and successfully operated under extreme difficulties."

Improvement Necessary. "We further represent that increased transportation facilities are absolutely necessary and call attention to the fact that there has been no substantial increase in railroad mileage for a number of years and that as a result, the railroads of the country are absolutely incapable of the demands of commerce."

"In view of the foregoing situation, the Mississippi Valley Association respectfully prays Congress, at the present session, to appropriate the necessary sum for the purpose of carrying on the improvements of said rivers with all possible and reasonable dispatch."
